After a Decade

Marc Wortman has acted as president of Ci Software for 22 years, since purchasing the company from his father. Not satisfied with his company's previous location in Danvers, Marc desired a more community feel and began the search for new office space.

As a North Shore local, Marc had heard about Cummings Center, its amenities, and the bustling business community. "It's like a city," he explained. "There are restaurants, hundreds of other businesses, and a professional environment."

A contract IT staffing company, Ci Software has more than 50 employees across the country, with approximately half located in New England. Although the company did not start in Beverly, Cummings Center's accessibility and convenience have allowed it to thrive here.

"To put it simply, our location makes our lives easier," Marc said of his reasons for choosing to move into 100 Cummings Center in 2006. "Cummings has allowed us to grow into a space that was right for Ci Software. The in-house construction team and attentive maintenance staff made that process easy. The people that work for Cummings Properties are amazing!"

Cummings Properties account manager Justin D'Aveta worked with Marc initially to find space and has remained Ci Software's account manger since its arrival. "We are so pleased to watch his company reach this 11-year milestone with us," said Justin. "We hope to keep Marc, his employees, and his train set (pictured above) at Cummings Center for many years to come."
